The Families for Inclusive Education Project:

- supports families of students with disability to have a clear vision for their son or daughter and become more informed about inclusive education and current inclusive education policies,
- helps families develop communication and advocacy skills so they can work effectively with their child's school,
- builds families' confidence and support networks so they can sustain their efforts as valued partners in their child's education,
- provides information and resourcing to service providers including local schools.

Alongside the workshops, CRU disseminates resources/case studies, hosts webinars, fosters peer support networks and provides information. CRU offers individual consultations to families and others who support the education of students with disability.

WORKSHOP OVERVIEW

Day 1 (Half Day) - Setting the Direction for Success - 23rd February

- Key elements of school inclusion
- How to develop a positive vision to set goals for school and life

Day 2 (Full Day) - Working Effectively with your Child's School

- Building and sustaining an effective relationship with your child's school
- What good inclusion looks like – from the classroom to the playground
 - Communication tips and advocacy skills
 - Overcoming challenges and who can help

Regional families (who have a student enrolled in a Queensland State School and must travel to attend a workshop) can apply for financial support to attend the closest workshop, or a Brisbane workshop if more convenient/cost effective. To apply for this assistance, contact CRU.

If you want to stay in touch, please sign up. If you wish to request an individual consultation please contact CRU on (07) 3844 2211 or email educationproject@cru.org.au
